

I&FM Platform Overview

The Home Page

Patients will always be directed to the platform's home page, (shown below for the Sample practice). The home page provides access to practice resources and other FMEC resources. The "Home" link should always be visible on the horizontal menu bar. While FMEC resources will remain visible on other pages on the horizontal menu bar, practice resources are only available from the home page.

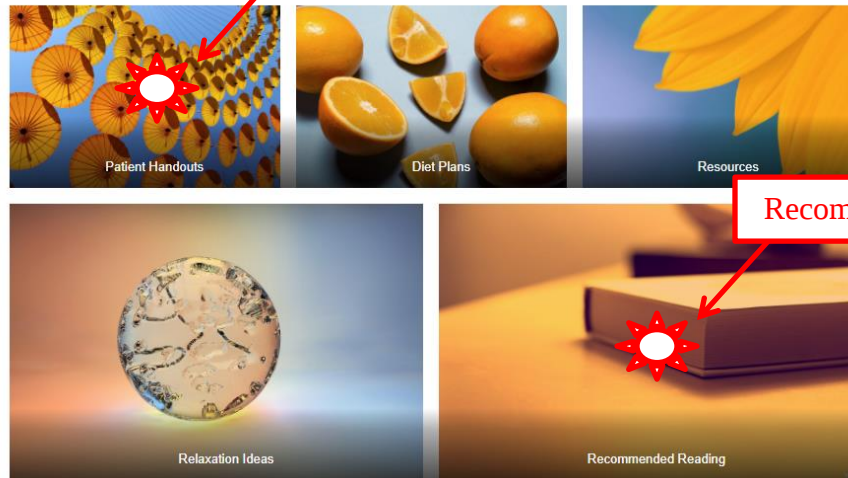

Practice Resources

Practices provide patients access to resources selected by their providers organized by topic under several different tiles on the home page. Clicking on each tile takes the patient to resource page for that topic, such as Patient Handouts and Recommended Reading. Be sure to click in the MIDDLE of each tile rather than the text.

Welcome to the I&FM Platform for Sample Family Medicine ("SFM"). This site includes integrative and functional medicine (I&FM) resources from SFM. Links to additional SFM Program are listed in the above menu.

Practice Resource Pages

The platform's horizontal menu bar remains visible on practice resource pages. Selecting "Home" will return the patient to the platform home page. Returning to the platform home page is the only way to move between practice resource pages. Practice resource pages are typically organized by sections with a menu that allows patients to "jump" to a selected section. To jump to patient handouts on the Food Sources Handouts, for example, patients can click on "Food Sources Handouts" on the menu.

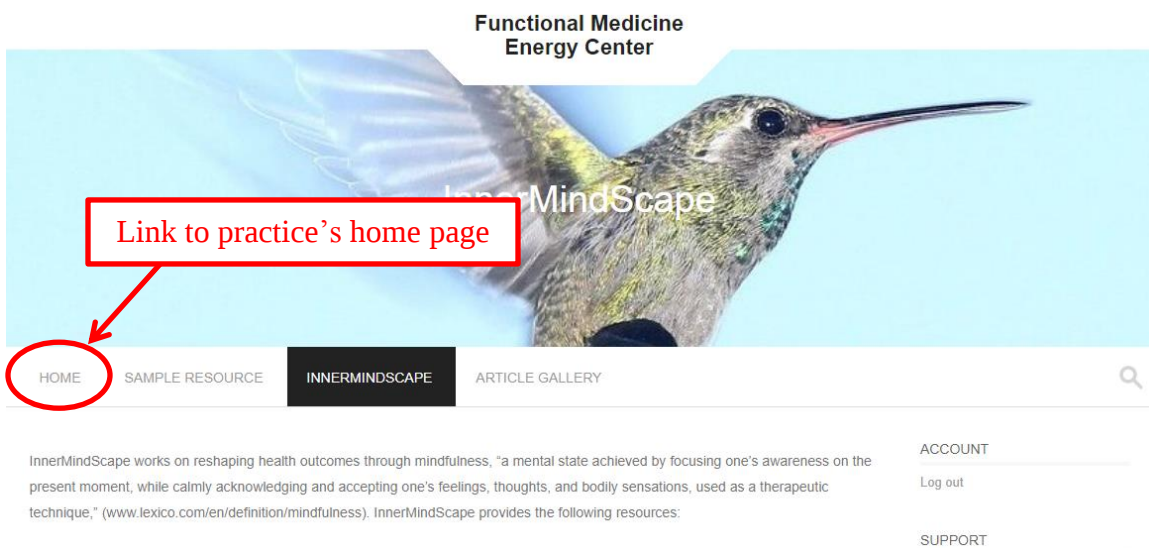

FMEC Resources

The platform provides access to other providers who are aligned in working with the practice. These providers are called "FMEC Resources" and are visible on the horizontal menu bar adjacent to the "Home" link. Selecting these links will take patients to the FMEC resource's platform page. Each FMEC resource has agreed to provide some complementary content as well as access to paid content at a discount to patients.

FMEC resource pages will either open in a new browser window or the current browser window. If an FMEC resource page opens in a new browser window, the practice’s platform home page will remain open in the previous browser window. Closing the FMEC resource browser window or selecting the previous browser window will return the patient to the practice’s platform home page.

If the FMEC resource page opens in the current browser window, the platform’s horizontal menu bar remains visible on FMEC resources’ platform page. Selecting “Home” will return the patient to platform home page.

Account/Support/Terms Menu

A vertical menu remains visible on the platform that allows patients to log in and out of the practice platform under “Account.” Patients may contact support administration and reset their password under “Support.” The “Terms” section of this menu provides the Terms of Use, Terms of Service and Privacy Policy.
